MONACHORUM MATTERS

The newsletter for Zeal Monachorum and St Peter's Parish

The wedding of Jeffery Harris and Kirsten Whitley on a beautiful day in September - more details on Page 10.

EDITORIAL

Our newsletter this month is full of news about lovely weddings and family-related stories. Our cover picture shows the wedding of two well-known local farmers – Jeffery Harris and his new wife Kirsten – who farm at Nymphayes.

We also have the delightful story of the Diamond Wedding of Anne and Tony Hubery, an event that was recognised by Her Majesty the Queen with a beautiful card. Details and pictures are on Page 4.

On Page 8 we have a heart-warming eulogy from Estelle Skinner, daughter of Barbara Skinner, a long-term Zeal resident, who passed away at the end of August.

Other issues of note this month are the return of our Film Nights on 27 October; there is an article about this on Page 23 along with details of the first film. We also need you to tell us what films you would like to us to put on - please contact Tina or David Bowyer, 82423, tinabowyer@hotmail.com

Finally, looking forward to next year's Platinum Jubilee of the Queen's Coronation, I can report that a small group has been formed which is brimming with ideas for things we can do to celebrate the event. Make sure you keep the long Bank Holiday weekend next June free.

COMMUNITY NEWS

MOBILE LIBRARY

Stopping at Waie Cross 1.15-1.40pm on Fridays 1 and 29 October.

We're still going on the van in bubbles but 2 bubbles of 2 people are usually allowed, which reduces queueing - though to be honest having a good chat while waiting is all part of the fun.

If you need something to read in between the monthly visits, the garage library is still going strong, garage 7 in Churchill Gardens (pictured right). You can borrow books and return them when you've read them. Thanks to Eleanor Wilson who has generously allowed her garage to be used. Thanks also to everyone who has brought books and magazines for others to enjoy, we are always grateful for more.

RAINFALL

The rainfall for August was 48mm.

BOW & DISTRICT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The next meeting is on Monday 25 October at 7.30pm: Todd Gray [always an excellent speaker] will be speaking on Devon slave owners and emancipation in 1834. Bow Village Hall. Everyone welcome, £3 for non-members of BDHS.

Diary date: Monday 22 November BDHS Annual General meeting.

FIREWOOD & APPLES

Geoff Rowland has been able to find someone to take most of the glass from his old greenhouse. However, the wooden frame is still there and would make excellent firewood for anyone prepared to come and remove it (some dismantling needed).

Geoff also has fruit trees laden with apples - anyone is welcome to come along and pick them. Contact Geoff on 82521

QUOTES

‘October begins still wearing summer’s faded gown. Every sunny day is borrowed and the light is slipping steadily away.’ Monty Don ‘My Garden World’

‘Some people are investments and some people are just bills. Know the difference.’

DIAMOND WEDDING

On the 2nd of September 1961, Anne & Tony Hubery were married in Kill Parish church, Ireland so they are celebrating their 60th (diamond) wedding anniversary.

Tony says . . .

‘We met whilst I was doing my National Service in the army (RAMC), Anne had left Ireland when she was 18yrs old and joined the British Army Nursing Service (QARANC). We were both posted to the Cambridge Military Hospital, Aldershot. The rest is history. After our wedding we spent our honeymoon at Anne's Uncle's pub right out on the Atlantic coast of Ireland in Co.Mayo.’

Along with pictures of Anne and Tony's wedding we have included an image of the message of congratulations from Her Majesty The Queen, which reads:

‘I am so pleased to know that you are celebrating your Diamond Wedding anniversary on 2nd September 2021. I send my congratulations and best wishes to you on such a special occasion’.

FISHING CLUB CHAT

Hi All

I am pleased to say the lake is fishing really well. We have had a few holidaymakers visiting and they were very impressed, which may possibly encourage a few new members. We were asked by friends if they could go fishing with their grandson and our friend Mrs Babara Pincombe. She was born in Zeal, and is the daughter of the late Norman and Mary Vicary. For her first ever fish she landed a very nice common carp (see picture below left), and she was very pleased. It shocked her husband John, who didn't think she would have the patience, but he was most impressed (could we have another new female member?).

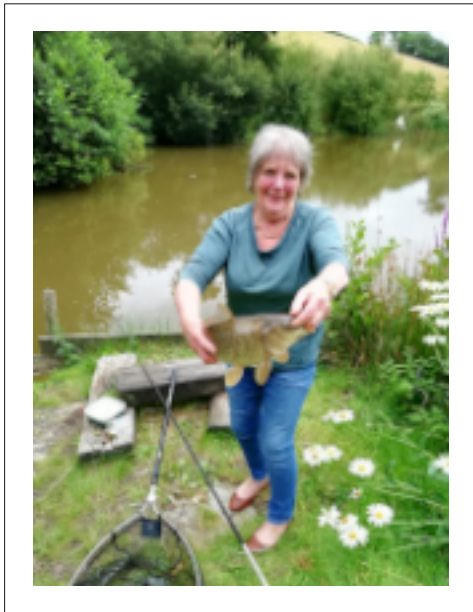

We recently applied for some funding from the Denbrook Fund to help replace our fencing around the lake, we await their response. Here's hoping for a mild winter so we can get some more angling in.

It's that time of the year again when we print next year's calendar which is now available. This year we have made a small increase to the price from £7 to £7.50 to cover increased printing costs; we hope that you can all support us again. We will divide the profits between Motor Neurone Disease (MND) and the fishing club.

LOVING MEMORIES OF BARBARA SKINNER

Family Life in Zeal Monachorum

Barbara was determined, adventurous and kind. She appreciated life and had the ability to live in the moment. She grew up in Dudley with her three siblings, and was known as Barb Hayward. Her mother worked as a seamstress and her father as a welder. They lived in a small home where she shared a bed with her sister Val and had limited material things, but had much care and love. Her father would sometimes take them all on fishing trips, using his motorbike and sidecar, to find lovely riverside stretches in the Ironbridge area of Shropshire. Barb would watch birds and dragonflies by the river and grew a strong love of the natural world.

She met her good friend Diana at a jazz club in her late teens. They were well up on all the latest fashion, and Barb would make them new outfits for the weekend. She was the first in the area to wear a miniskirt - her younger brother wondered what it was! Barb and Diana hitchhiked on trips to see live music and to visit family. They saw the Beatles perform live and many others.

Barbara moved to London in her early 20s, she was open minded and learnt a lot. She worked hard and enjoyed trying her hand at new roles: for a clothes designer, in an office helping people on benefits, and she also worked for a family-run jewellers. After the hubbub of London life, Barbara moved to Margate in Kent and ran her own B&B business. She always enjoyed meeting people and liked helping them to have a positive experience with good memories.

During the off-season winter months Barbara worked at an accountancy training firm where she met Chris. He was strong-minded and always made her laugh, and she loved that. When he was unexpectedly offered a job in Devon they decided to move so that they could raise their children surrounded by nature and a close community.

Barbara and Chris Skinner moved to Devon in 1982, with Mark (2-years old) and Estelle (2-months). They bought a home in Barnstaple where they lived for a few years with Barbara's father. They later rented at Water Lane in Bow for a few months and, after searching for a place to really settle long-term, they moved to Zeal Monachorum in August 1987. They have lived in Zeal as a family ever since.

While the children were at Bow Primary School, Barbara sometimes helped out as a classroom assistant, and would bring in home-made artworks to tell stories and bring topics to life. She had planned to open her own nursery not long before she developed rheumatoid arthritis at age 36, but rather than dwell on what was not to be she moved forward and found positive solutions to bring out the best from life - in true Barbara style.

Barbara was a warm and social person. She joined in village life, making good friends through school and also the WI. She enjoyed local events like the Zeal harvest festival, summer fete and open gardens, and also valued trips with friends including to the ballet in Plymouth. Tina, Erica and Jackie remained good friends into her later life.

Barbara set up her own business in 1988 - Country Bridal Collection. She converted her garage and used it as a bridal display area, so that she could run the business from home. The business brought her a lot of joy because she was able to help many brides to find their dream dress and to feel good in themselves in the run up to their big day. Barbara organised local fashion shows, including at the Waie Inn, to show some of the lovely bridal and bridesmaid dresses. These were happy and fun events, and many local people joined in.

Barbara had to pass on her business eventually due to her physical health, and she was sad to let it go. She didn't dwell on negatives though and she appreciated each day she had with family and good friends. She recognised how precious life is because she had almost lost hers when the children were very young and so to have the opportunity to live and see her children mature was something even more special to her.

The Skinners have always been a close family. Mark chose not to fledge and built his own home adjoined to his Mum and Dad's. Estelle has lived in Zeal periodically during her 20s and 30s, and loves to spend time at the family home, and walking or jogging the countryside footpaths.

Barbara and Estelle were part of the Bow Garden Club during the late 2000s. They joined in the garden visits, talks and the Christmas meal. They also enjoyed taking part in the Bow Twinning Quiz, where an incredible Indian meal was created by local people. The Skinners took part with their neighbour and good friend Stella, using team name 'The Zealots', referencing Zeal.

The family ran a special service for Barbara themselves at the crematorium in Exeter, on Tuesday 31st August. This was directly followed by Barbara's wake at the Waie Inn, which was a celebration of Barbara's positivity, with cheerful sunflowers and rudbeckias, and lovely photo montages capturing a life of fun, adventure and love.

Her ashes will stay with her family at their loving family home in Zeal. Her warmth and positivity will remain with us and can remind us to keep on valuing and loving life and those around us, each day and always.

Marriage Blessing On Thursday 27th August, a marriage blessing was held in church for Mark Sproule and Emma Sharpe, whose wedding had taken place at Hayne the previous day.

Wedding On Saturday, 4th September the marriage of Jeffery Harris and Kirsten Whitley took place at St Peter's. The bells greeted the guests on a gloriously sunny morning. The bride entered the church to Canon by Johann Pachelbel. A full church of their family and friends witnessed the occasion. The service was conducted by the Rev Robert Gordon. After the service the couple left the church under a guard of honour of pitchforks, a long-held tradition for young farmers. The bride and groom rode away in a pony and carriage for the continuing celebrations at Nymphayes. We pray that both couples will have a long and happy life together.

ZEAL MONACHORUM SHOPS

Shopping as a leisure and pleasure activity is comparatively new. In the past, in Zeal Monachorum, it would have been all about buying essentials for everyday life, especially for the poor and working class. The last shop in Zeal closed in 2002. I have found references to quite a few shops over the last 200 years, often remembered with much affection. It's likely that there were other shops than those described in the written records. In the 1840s, when my research begins, these might include: dry goods like oatmeal, peas, flour, salt; bread; treacle; bacon; washing soda; string; candles and lamp oil. While many people grew some vegetables for themselves and kept a few hens for eggs, not everyone had land to do that and so potatoes, cabbage and dairy products would have to be purchased; in the case of the latter, often direct from the dairy, close to where the cows were milked and where the cream, butter and cheese were made. There was a dairy at Glebe on Eastern Road for many years.

For the working classes, the only form of transport until well into the 20th century would be Shanks's pony and while, indeed, people could walk to markets at Crediton, North Tawton and further afield, that would generally only be on special occasions, such as the annual hiring fairs in the autumn. For working people and women at home looking after children, sparing a day and having enough money to spend to go to market in another town would be a rarity.

The first written mention I have been able to find of shops in Zeal is in 1841 on the Tithe Apportionment listing properties on the Tithe Map. William Mitchell had a shop in the area now known as Silver Park, near Waie Cross, on land owned by George Snell of Gill House. The Golden Lion Pub was on the same patch and by 1851 William Mitchell was its victualler and a machine maker. He died in 1867.

Also in 1841 Charity Slee, whose husband Richard had died in 1830; and her son, Richard, ran a shop at Withy Park in a row of cottages now known as Oldlands and Honeysuckle Cottage on Western Road. Richard was described in the census as a "writing clerk". I would think this would be a useful skill, and customers might well have been asking him for help with reading letters or documents, as few ordinary people had much education. By 1851 Charity was 72 and the census described her as "formerly shopkeeper". Another son, Thomas Slee, then aged 45, was the shopkeeper. However, Charity died in 1854 and perhaps the shop didn't make ends meet because, by the 1861 census, Thomas was a widowed lodger working as an agricultural labourer and he died in 1864. Another possibility is that, by 1850, Ann Vanstone, aged 53, was running a shop nearby and perhaps the competition was too much for the Sleees. In 1861 Ann had her baby grandson, Mark Castle, staying with her. She died in 1863.

The Castles lived in the village for generations, with the craft of carpentry being passed down from father to son. Marriage was common between other long-time families in the village. Ann's link to the Castles may mean that the shop which, in 1861, Mary Ann Castle née Ellis, 1802-1874, was running, is the same one as Ann Vanstone's. Disappointingly, the whereabouts of shops in the village is not always clear; though, in this case, for at least some of the time, it is clear that the Castles did have a shop in Sacristan Cottage*, abutting the graveyard.

For the next 40 years or so, members of the Castle family ran a shop. The many changes make it feel as if sometimes it's all hands to the pump. The women shopkeepers included Ann Castle and Mrs Elizabeth Castle, née Clotworthy. There was also a continuing thread of shopkeepers, or the relatives of shopkeepers, being carpenters: John 1802-1863; Thomas 1807-1871; Joseph 1809-1868; his son Thomas 1846-1918 and the latter's sons Albyn 1880-1958, Clifford 1882-1961, and Zeal Joseph 1884-1938. Both Thomases also held the office of sexton [person who looks after a church and its graveyard and may act as a gravedigger and bell-ringer] and Sacristan Cottage would have gone with the role. The carpentry skills for making coffins would be essential to the role of sexton in a small parish.

Thomas, born in 1846, became sexton and undertaker and shopkeeper in the 1870s and continued into the 20th century. Sadly, by 1911 he was a patient whose infirmity is "lunatic" at the Devon County Council Lunatic Asylum in Exminster [a huge and grim place to end up in], and he died there in 1918.

I haven't found records of other Castles as shopkeepers or sextons after Thomas, although his sons continued to work as carpenters in Zeal.

Prepare your garden for the cooler weather this October with Garden Advice from Bow Garden Centre

With beautiful autumnal colours, October can be a stunning month and there are lots of tasks to keep you busy in the garden. Take a look at these tips on what needs doing in the garden this month, courtesy of Bow Garden Centre.

1. Rake up fallen Autumn leaves and collect them with a garden vacuum, turning them into leaf mould.
2. Provide frost protection to any tender plants or bring them into your greenhouse if possible. Insulate your greenhouse with bubble wrap. We also have fleece and frost jackets available in store to help.
3. If you haven't already, now is a great time to invest in a compost bin – left over harvest, leaves and cuttings will get your compost off to a fantastic start!
4. Clear out Summer annuals and replant with Winter Bedding plants, available in store now.
5. Plant Spring flowering bulbs now if you haven't already - it's not too late! We have a range of bulbs and planting aids to help make this job a breeze. Remember to cover ground bulbs with bark mulch to protect against frost.
6. Use Autumn feed to treat and help protect your lawn against moss. It's also your last chance to mow the lawn before Winter fully sets in. Cut the lawn slightly higher than in Summer to help protect against frost. It's also a good time to trim hedges.
7. Protect garden furniture, BBQs, chimineas, and water features with covers. We have a selection of covers available in store now.
8. Harvest any remaining fruit you have before it perishes. Use Kilner Jars and accessories to make jams and chutneys to enjoy throughout the year.

Bow Garden Centre is a great place for all your garden essentials, including an expanded range of plants, shrubs, bulbs, and seeds. Also plenty of gardening tools, firepits, garden buildings and everything you need for gardening, plus fish and pet supplies, a lovely welcoming Waterside Cafe, and Post Office services too.

CREDITON FOODBANK

From the September market, I took 7 bags, £50 and some fresh beans and tangerines, all of which were much appreciated. Later in September I took in five full bags of food, one of which was an amazing delivery that came by way of our lovely Post lady. Thank you, Charmaine - you are a gem, and thank you all for the donations given.

Now that life is gradually getting back to some form of normality the Foodbank is pleased that the one-to-one support they provide can increase. This can involve helping people with budgeting, referrals to other agencies, giving people a voice when things are difficult and empowering people to move forward. Cookery sessions will, hopefully, start in the Autumn. These are just a few of the ways that the Foodbank benefits the communities it serves. With your donations of food and money you are a part of this. God Bless.

There also is now a Debt and Money Adviser from CHAT (Churches Housing Action Team) based at the Foodbank every Tuesday to help local clients. Previously people had to travel to Tiverton for any support, a costly and time-consuming exercise as there is no direct bus service. This additional support will help to minimise the stress for those who need the help CHAT can provide.

ZEAL MONACHORUM WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

For our September meeting, the minutes were very short - they were read by Judi Hollingsworth, agreed with members and signed by Jan Brealy. After a brief discussion regarding future meetings our social evening commenced. The table was laden with cheeses, bread from Oliver's, various biscuits, home-made chutney courtesy of new member Delia Wainwright, grapes, tomatoes, apples, not forgetting wine and non-alcoholic beverages. Many thanks to Lois Hamilton for the loan of wine glasses.

Pass the parcel, kindly produced by Sue Carey, had grown women showing signs of hysteria as the parcel quickly zoomed around the table before the music, controlled by new member Jess Standing, was paused. Frantic tearing of paper commenced before the music started again. There were 21 layers to be dealt with before getting to the ultimate prize and each layer held a little surprise. It was just what was needed to lighten the gloomy mood of past months. The winner was Hazel John and the prize was a lovely hand-crafted bowl made by Richard Carey. Our treasurer, Hazel Wainwright, had devised a cheese and wine themed quiz which had us all scratching our heads. It was a great evening.

October's speaker will be Campbell McAllister: "A minute is a long time in animation". The competition will be a drawing of your favourite cartoon from early times up to modern. However, computer generated entries will not be accepted. November's speaker will be our very own Tina Bowyer: "From garden to table in 30 minutes". This is to demonstrate soup makers. Members are requested to bring a couple of vegetables each, WI will provide fresh bread and butter so it will be another supper ladies, and I daresay another game will be included. New members are always welcome or come as a visitor to see what you think. Stay healthy.

WI Pass the Parcel - just big kids but it made us all laugh out loud.

DUCK RACING

It's strange what some people do for entertainment . . .

A few weeks ago a huge crowd of people gathered for a Duck Race (Plastic ducks!) in the River Yeo, which runs through Nymphayes Farm. There was also dog racing but not at the same time and, as far as I know, not in the river.

Thanks to Ken Hogg for these pictures of the event.

OUR POST LADY, CHARMAINE

Our lovely post lady, Charmaine has delivered to Zeal Monachorum for 16 years; initially on just one day a week until 2017 when she took over the route completely. She loves her job, although she really doesn't like getting wet, but she enjoys being out in the countryside greeting the villagers each day and, of course, seeing their lovely animals.

Charmaine's lovely Mum, Margaret, used to be our other Postie; she retired in May after 25 years.

This month Charmaine will have proudly served the Royal Mail for 20 years and we are certainly very grateful to her for her friendly and considerate service. I really look forward to seeing her cheerful smile each day.
